Copyright © 2012 by Paul R. Huffman, Sedona, Arizona, transcribed from digital recording by Paul R. Huffman.

Summary: You have no other purpose other than to express the song of God, and that expression, clarity and purpose is your Joy.

God moves the love that He is through you, and you vibrate His particular song that He desires to hear.

You swim in an ocean of love every moment without end.

These words come from the interior-substance of God.

God's desire to see and know Himself is His song and His Joy.

The essence of who you are resides in the Stillness of God.

The Joy of God is held within the description of Himself.

Life is simple, joyful and abundant.

Life is a song sung by God and you simply repeat the song back to God, and therefore your thoughts and actions become the thoughts and actions of God.

Begin. Bell. Is it not a beautiful day today, Paul? The sun is shining and the birds are singing, and all is well in your world, a world of great harmony, of world peace and joy, a world that needs nothing to be who and what it is.

And here you sit, waiting and anticipating words that will move through you, ideas and concepts that will move through you, and change the way you think and feel about your self and the world. There is absolutely nothing that you must do to be who and what you are. If you give up your mind you will become the Mind of God. If you give all your thoughts and words to God, God will rearrange them and give them back to you.

You swim in an ocean of love every moment, every day, without end. You are held within the arms of God, now, and yet you sit in the universe on this particular planet, at this particular time, at this particular moment, and you speak these words back to God. These are not your words. These words and ideas come from the substance of God, from the interior of God. And God desires to see and to know Himself, and thus you were born, and thus the universe was born.

There are almost infinite voices and sounds that return to God. It is a particular sound, or song that God hears each moment, and you vibrate with this sound, and you live within this sound. And your particular joy Paul, is singing and expressing God's particular song (back) to Him. You have no other job. You have no other purpose.

You can design and build great buildings, but that is not your primary purpose. Your primary purpose is to express to God That Which He Is. Your primary purpose is to show God the love that He is. God expresses Himself and sees Himself through the forest of your world, through the animals of your world, through the beauty of your planet. God sees Himself in the beauty of your solar system and your galaxy. Every thing of God is born within the substance-interior of God. And God's desire to see Himself is His song, is His sound and is His joy. And your joy is being conscious of your purpose, and expressing your particular sound back to God. God moves through you like an instrument, and you vibrate a sound and that sound is expressed out into the universe, outward, and God is in joy of your sound, your being, and your aliveness. You have no other purpose other than to sing the song of God, other than to express the song of God. God moves the love that He is through you, and you vibrate, you vibrate this particular song that God desires to hear, for God calls to you in particular, in uniqueness, in His identity of Himself to sing the song of love. And you, as an instrument of God, vibrate the joy of God, the pleasure of God, the love of God. You are not unlike this crystal bowl that sits upon your bed, and awaits instructions. It awaits to be touched by your hand, to vibrate, to sing, for that is its purpose, that is why it was made in the special way that it was made. (crystal bowl ringing)

It is that simple Paul. Life is not complex. Life is orderly, reasonable, rationale and you move down the stream of life, within this ocean of life, and you perform your duties and you perform your purpose. Your mind may instruct you to gather this or that, to find food and shelter, to find a girlfriend, to find a home, to find a garden, but your small mind is secondary unto the Mind of God. And God's instructions to you, Paul, is to sing the song of God, to be the song of God, to express the song of God. (17:42) God places you within life, within this stream of life, and you vibrate a certain tone, a certain way, that is unique unto you. It is God's gift to you. And as you perform the gifts that have been given you, you resonate in joy, as God resonates in joy, as He sees you, as He hears you, as you express the love for God.

You were born from the interior-substance of God's heart and core, and Stillness, and there you still reside, you still exist. God has not let go of you. God has not released you into space and said, "Do not come back. You will float free forever." God moves who you are, Paul, out into the universe, into space and time, through His desire to see Himself. You are projected outward into light, into form, into time, into space, and you are a moving picture of that which is inside of God.

The essence of who you are resides, still, inside of God. And the joy and the movement of you now lives within the universe, as it plays in the universe, and witnesses the universe. And so, you are the interior of God, [let loose,] projected out into space, out into God's Mind, God's field of energy, where things move and play together, where things sing to each other.

Life is not difficult Paul, when you align yourself with your purpose, when you move with the flow of God's desire, God's wanting to know and to hear Himself, and God's wanting to see Himself. Then you stand up (live) with confidence, with purpose, and you begin to sing your particular song to God.

The joy of God is held within the description of God. The joy of God is being held within the safety of God, the warmth of God, the love of God. You are being held as a small child is held by his mother. You are being nourished. You are being kept warm and you are deeply loved. All you must do is to be alive, and look into the eyes of God, look into the eyes of your Mother, and show Her the love that She is. She sees the love that you are, and She is in ecstasy, for She feels the love, as you demonstrate the love of your Self, and the love of your Mother.

It is that simple Paul. Life is not complex. Life is joy (and) abundance. Life is laughter. Life is a song sung by God to you, and you simply repeat the words back (to God) in rhythm, in breath, and thus you vibrate, and thus you sing. And those in your world may hear your particular sound, or they may not, for your purpose is to look towards the heavens, and be inspired by the heavens. Look to the forest and be inspired by the forest. Looked to the mountains and be inspired by the mountains, and those that can hear you will hear you, and those who cannot, will not. Your job is not to save the world Paul. It (your joy) is simply to be who you are, that which you are, and then time passes, this physical life passes, and you are born again from [inside] the heart of God, with a unique sound, a unique joy and this reoccurs, and reoccurs, till God pulls Himself back within Himself. And there is a moment, or a time of silence, and then again, God desires to see the love that He is, and once again the substance of God (that which you are) is moved outward, outward, into the vastness of His Mind.

You have no life of your own, Paul. You have no mind of your own, and you have no purpose of your own. All that comes forth from you is from God. All that you express is from God. There can be no other way Paul. There can be no other purpose. There can be no other life. Your clarity becomes more and more of the clarity of God. Your actions and thoughts become more and more the actions and thoughts of God.

Your joy Paul, and your purpose is to sing the song of God. Your joy and your purpose is to sing the song of God, over and over, over and over, until you remember the words, until you remember the rhythm, and the beat, and the breath. And then the Angels recognize your song. They recognized the sound of God, and they too begin to sing your song, and all of heaven is in joy. The universe begins to sing your song, and God is pleased. God is in joy. And God's joy flows into you and around you, and carries you into these heavenly realms. And you also, see the love that you are. You also see the place of your birth, and your joy is so great, the ecstasy is almost overwhelming. There are moments when you disappear deep into the ecstasy, deep into the love, for this is the love you have been seeking Paul. This is the love that you recognize as your source, as your existence. (38:50)

And so it is on this beautiful day. The birds are singing. The trees are glowing with love. The sun warms you and greets you. And joy surrounds you today, now, now. Bell. End.
